

HI-GLOBE

HIGHLIGHTING THE POTENTIAL OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNING FOR GLOBAL EDUCATION PURPOSES

What is Global Education?

Global education (GE) has been defined as an approach that enables people to develop the knowledge, skills, values and attitudes needed for securing sustainable world in which everyone has the right to fulfil his/her potential. GE encompasses Development Education, Human Rights Education, Education for Sustainability, Education for Peace and Conflict Prevention, Intercultural Education, being the global dimension for Education for Citizenship (Global Education Guidelines, 2008).

HI-GLOBE project at a glance

The objective of the HI-GLOBE project is to enhance the potential of English-language learning for Global Educational purposes.

In reaching this objective, the primary target groups addressed are:

- adult English-language learners
- English language teachers, instructors, educators and tutors.

Envisaged results of the HI-GLOBE project:

- Analysis on the approach of English teachers in the adult sector on Global Educational methodologies in language teaching
- HI-GLOBE modules developed on 2 levels (A1-2 and B1-2), each one including a 40 hour blended learning course serving Global Educational purposes and based on CLIL, TBL and interactive digital technology.

Other planned activities:

- Adult learners of English language from the partners' countries will have the possibility to participate in the pilot modules of the HI-GLOBE methodology;
- Learning/Teaching/Training Activities will be run in Italy;
- Promotional events organized for the exploitation of the HI-GLOBE methodology will be organized in each partner country in November 2021 during the Global Education Week.

How?

The methodology of HI-GLOBE is an innovative way of teaching languages, that does not only serve as a goal any more, but language is becoming a tool for further learning of diverse content, practicing skills and shaping attitudes.

Getting Involved

In the first phase of the project the HI-GLOBE team is conducting the research aiming to analyze the current practices, and the attitude and approach of English teachers, educators, instructors and tutors related Global Educational methodologies.

We would like to invite you to share your opinion with us and participate in the survey. The results will be contributing to the development of new English teaching modules that can support learners in becoming global citizens and increase their knowledge in areas such as interculturality, human rights, democracy or sustainability and develop skills such as teamwork, critical thinking, conflict transformation and so on.

International partnership

The HI-GLOBE project partners are organisations from five different EU countries:

Coordinator: Bahcesehir University Foundation (Turkey)

Partners:

- Pelican Language School (Czech Republic)
- Promozione Internazionale Sicilia-Mondo (Italy)
- Foundation for the Development of International and Educational Activity – FRAME (Poland)
- European Center for Quality (Bulgaria)
- Promimpresa (Italy)

Survey – your opinion matters!

Filling in the survey takes not more than 7 minutes and your response is important in order to develop the new learning HI-GLOBE modules in the way that is most interesting and fitting to your approach!
